ANNOUNCEMENT

REP. DEVLIN ANNOUNCED that the House stand in recess until 12:30 p.m.

THE HOUSE RECONVENED pursuant to recess taken, with Acting Speaker Devlin presiding.

MOTION

REP. VIGESAA MOVED that a committee of two be appointed to escort the Honorable Heidi Heitkamp to the podium

Acting Speaker Devlin appointed Rep. Carlson and Rep. Onstad., which motion prevailed.

REMARKS OF THE HONORABLE HEIDI HEITKAMP

Thank you for having me here today. It's a privilege to represent the people of North Dakota.

We have an amazing story in North Dakota. We've seen the farm and energy economies lift our state beyond compare - creating jobs, bringing in businesses, supporting revenue and growth. That is true whether corn is nine dollars a bushel or three, whether oil is one hundred dollars a barrel or twenty. Our strength has always been in our people and the land we inhabit.

So even though we have been challenged these past months with low commodity prices and high dollar values, North Dakota will continue to thrive; we always have.

That is, however, not a strategy for growth. We need to renew our goal of a strong and diverse economy. That means making sure our agriculture and energy industries continue to grow and thrive, but also that we build a strong manufacturing base, boost small businesses and startups, which represent more than 95 percent of the businesses in our state, and support other industries that will help keep our economy strong for well into the future.

The single biggest challenge policy makers will have in serving North Dakota is the development of a skilled and work ready work force.

You are currently spending millions to recruit new workers into North Dakota. I see the signs for the "good life." But slogans must reflect reality.

All that effort can be completely undone if we do not have policies in North Dakota that welcome and retain the next generation of workers. So issues that in the past have seemed irrelevant to the economic growth of our state must take center stage.

We cannot be a state that discriminates. As young and talented minds come to the realization that the work that they can do - cyber security, programming, accounting, and even medicine - can be performed anywhere in the world. We want those jobs in North Dakota.

We must support our universities and colleges, including our tribal college. It might be tempting to reduce support for higher education and research in tough times. ... that would be the wrong approach on so many levels.

We must nurture our children who are clearly our workforce of tomorrow and are getting a good start in life. I also want to take a moment to reinforce the importance of supporting Native American children in our state. All of North Dakota's citizens must be given a good start in life.

Safety must be our number one priority. We must guarantee that when called, first responders will come including ambulance, and fire and law enforcement. And we must make a pledge to rid our state of human trafficking, the practice of modern day slavery.

We must meet the mental and behavior health challenges of our society.

And we must value the rich environmental and cultural assets of our state. How do you put a value on the Elkhorn Ranch or a little Missouri vista or the view from the Pembina Gorge? These are also the inheritance of our children that should not be squandered for short term gain.

We also must continue to demand a respectful sovereign to sovereign relationship with the federal government.

The work that Congress does impacts you every day - and the budget that Congress just passed could push many federal programs onto states. The federal budget, which I didn't support, would block grant Medicaid pushing those additional costs on states like North Dakota. Those costs don't go away. It only burdens states more with the cost.

As we continue to address the Washington regulatory environment, including 111d, new source performance standards, WOTUS, and Conservation compliance.

In addition to pushing to prevent states from being burdened by programs that federal government should support, I also launched a new bipartisan initiative to help address the impact of federal regulations. Federal regulations help keep our drinking water safe, protect consumers from fraud, prevent Americans from consuming unsafe food or drugs, encourage innovation, and keep our economy running. But the federal government is big, and there are good programs that can get bogged down in unnecessary red tape. My #CutRedTape Initiative would create the first central location online for American families and businesses to voice their stories about how federal regulations impact them on a daily basis.

Thank you for having me here today. Every day in the U.S. Senate, I fight for what is best for North Dakota because our state is my top priority, over political party. I hope that each and every one of you puts the same bipartisan creed behind your work because that's what North Dakotans want and it's what they need.

Thank you.

REQUEST

REP. MOCK REQUESTED that the remarks of Senator Heitkamp be printed in the Journal, which request was granted.
