REMARKS OF MAJORITY LEADER WARDNER

The first thank you goes to the staff. You made the session go smoothly. Your work behind the scenes helped to make the special session go off without a hitch. No challenge is too big for this group!

Mr. President, I want to thank the Senate for their work during this special session, and you did your work efficiently and professionally. Members of the majority, you did your job! Members of the minority, you did your job! Your job was to challenge the majority, and you did!!

Mr. President, you came in cold, and you did a great job of presiding over the Senate. Thank you for a job well done.

Mr. President, there are three members of the Senate who will not be back in January because they are not running for office this fall. I would like to thank the good senators from District 10, District 30, and District 4 for their service to the State of North Dakota.

It is time we go back to our interim work and prepare for the 65th Legislative Session, which begins on January 3, 2017.

Thank you for coming back and doing the work of the people of North Dakota.

REMARKS OF MINORITY LEADER SCHNEIDER

Mr. President, we had a lively debate about the merits of the special session yesterday; and while I disagree that the product is in the best interest of the people of North Dakota, I'm content to leave that debate in the past. I want to thank our talented staff both at the front desk and in the Majority and Minority Leaders' offices for their dedication. We greatly appreciate that you took time away from your families and daily lives to assist us as we work to balance the budget of our state.

I also want to thank the senators who we know will no longer be with us next session: the senator from District 10 and I were members of the same freshman class, and I have enjoyed getting to know him socially over the years; the senator from District 30, who has a long history in both chambers, should be commended for his dedication to the people of North Dakota; and last but not least, the senator from District 4, a deep thinking, deep feeling senator and tremendous mentor to me. We will miss their service as we continue to value their friendship.

Mr. President, we have strong disagreements about policy in the Senate, and even as we push for a better product for the people of North Dakota, know that we value all of you as colleagues. I look forward to working with you again next session.
