

Real estate taxes lost should be made up with sales tax in each jurisdiction, not heavier taxes on other properties. Those who live and own businesses in many locations already hold the majority of the tax burden, simply using this law to 'redistribute' is unseemly.