POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

REP. HOLLE rose on a point of personal privilege.

REMARKS OF REPRESENTATIVE HOLLE

MR. SPEAKER: Mr. Speaker and members of the Assembly, today I rise with great pride to congratulate an outstanding group of students from Mandan High School for their recent success in the exciting and rapidly growing world of competitive esports—or, as many people know it, competitive video games.

This past weekend, the Mandan High School esports team showed incredible talent, teamwork, and dedication by winning first place in the state Rocket League championship. But that's not all—they also earned second place in both Fortnite Ace and Minecraft BedBreakers, proving that they are not just great at one game, but have a wide range of skills across multiple platforms.

Now, for those of you wondering, "What is Rocket League?"—let me take a moment and explain it.

Rocket League is soccer, but instead of players running around the field, they're driving rocket-powered cars. The cars fly around the arena, doing flips, turbo-boosting off walls, and trying to slam a giant soccer ball into the net. And just to make it even more exciting, other cars are racing at them like something straight out of an action movie.

It's what you'd get if NASCAR and FIFA had a baby—and then raised that baby on a trampoline and a steady diet of energy drinks. And while it may look wild—and yes, it is—it's a serious sport that takes quick reflexes, sharp strategy, good teamwork, and perfect timing. These students aren't just playing video games—they're mastering a digital arena that demands real skill and fast decision-making.

Just like traditional sports, esports teaches important lessons in teamwork, leadership, and perseverance. The Mandan High School esports program isn't just preparing students to be successful in the digital world; it's giving them skills that will help them in school, in their careers, and in life.

So, please join me in congratulating the Mandan High School esports team: Caden Schirado, Jaxon Rabenberg, Shawn Smith, and Brady Stein, along with their coaches—Head Coach Stephen Kessler and Assistant Coach Grant Rissler.

Their achievements are a source of pride for their school, their city, and for all of North Dakota.

Thank you

REQUEST

REP. BOSCH REQUESTED that the remarks of Rep. Holle be printed in the Journal, which request was granted.
