REMARKS OF REPRESENTATIVE DOBERVICH

MR. SPEAKER: This week is National Public Health when we celebrate the power of prevention and community. This year's theme is 'It Starts Here', a reminder that healthier futures begin with action in our neighborhoods, our schools, in the choices we make, and the systems we build. Whether it's advocating for clean water, access to care, or mental health support—it starts here with each of us. Public Health Week is also a time to honor North Dakota's public health work force working to improve health on the local, tribal, and state level. We are also grateful for the public health programs at North Dakota State University and University of North Dakota training the public health heroes of the future and engaging in research to improve our quality of life. Together we build a healthier tomorrow.
