

INDEX.

THIS INDEX EMBRACES ALL THE SEVEN CODES.

[NOTE.—In the following general index to both volumes of this work the references to the several Codes are grouped separately under the various subject headings, the Code referred to being indicated in the "section" column at the beginning of each group. "C. Civ. P." refers to the Code of Civil Procedure; "Pr. C." to the Probate Code; "J. C." to the Justices' Code; "Pol. C." to the Political Code; "C. C." to the Civil Code; "Pen. C." to the Penal Code; and "C. Crim. P." to the Code of Criminal Procedure. The abbreviation applies in each case, not only to the section to which it is attached, but to all the following sections until a new abbreviation is introduced. The number of the section is sufficient to identify any reference, except in the case of the Political Code, where each chapter has its sections numbered separately. Accordingly, in all references to the Political Code in this index, the chapter is cited with the section; all the sections following such a citation belong to the same chapter until a new chapter is cited.]
