The Legislative Management met on November 12-13 to receive final reports from 25 interim committees. During the interim, there were 184 interim committee meetings, which was 57 more than the previous interim. The interim committees recommended 32 bills and 3 resolutions, compared to 27 bills and 1 resolution during the 2023-24 interim. All the recommendations of the interim committees were approved for submission to the 2027 Legislative Assembly.

What is the Legislative Management?

The Legislative Management is a 17-member committee consisting of the Majority and Minority Leaders from both chambers, the Speaker of the House, and six members from each chamber, including at least one from the minority party. The Legislative Management directs the work of the Legislative Assembly during the interim by appointing members to statutory boards and committees, selecting interim study topics, establishing interim committees, and reviewing interim committee reports, recommendations, and proposed legislation.
